Purpose

This document presents findings referring to the tests done on the Israeli website of the brand "stradivarius". The tests were carried out on the main functions of the website, which refer to operations such as: Navigation, displaying information and products, login and registration.

The purpose of this document is to document the results of the testing process, ensuring that the site meets specified requirements and functions correctly. It verifies quality, track issues, recommends improvements, and ensures compliance with standards.

Application Overview

<https://www.stradivarius.com/il/> is the official website of Stradivarius in Israel. It is a popular Spanish women's clothing retailer.

The website is mainly used as Web and Mobile website for shopping items from this brand- mainly clothes, but also shoes, accessories, jewelry, bags and more.

The collections are known for their trendy and stylish designs, catering to a variety of tastes and occasions.

Key sections of the website include categories for different types of clothing such as dresses, jeans, skirts, tops, and outerwear, as well as dedicated sections for shoes and accessories.

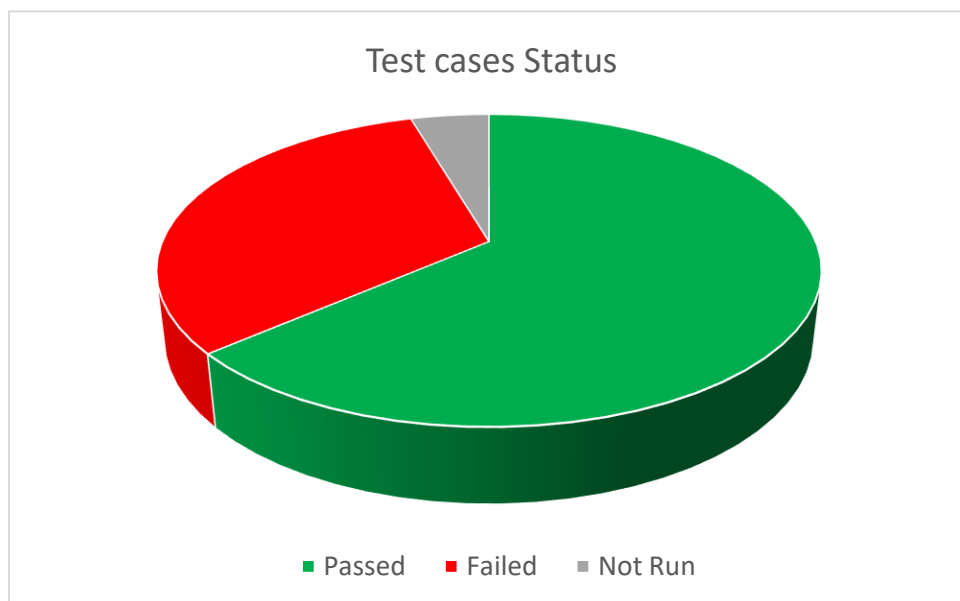

The site provides a user-friendly shopping experience with features like a store locator, free standard home delivery on certain orders, and an organized layout that makes it easy to browse and find specific items.

Metrics

Test cases status

This pie chart represents the test cases that passed or failed after testing the website. Most of the test cases passed.

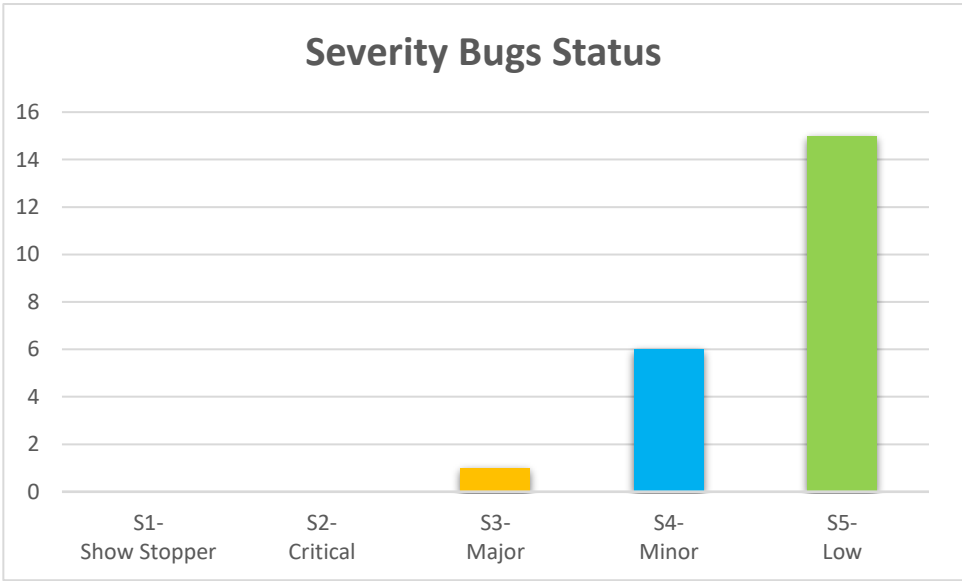

Passed	Failed	Not Run	Total
70	35	5	110

Severity Bugs Status

This column chart represents the severity status of the bugs found on the “Stradivarius” shopping website. We can infer that most of the bugs were of “Low” severity.

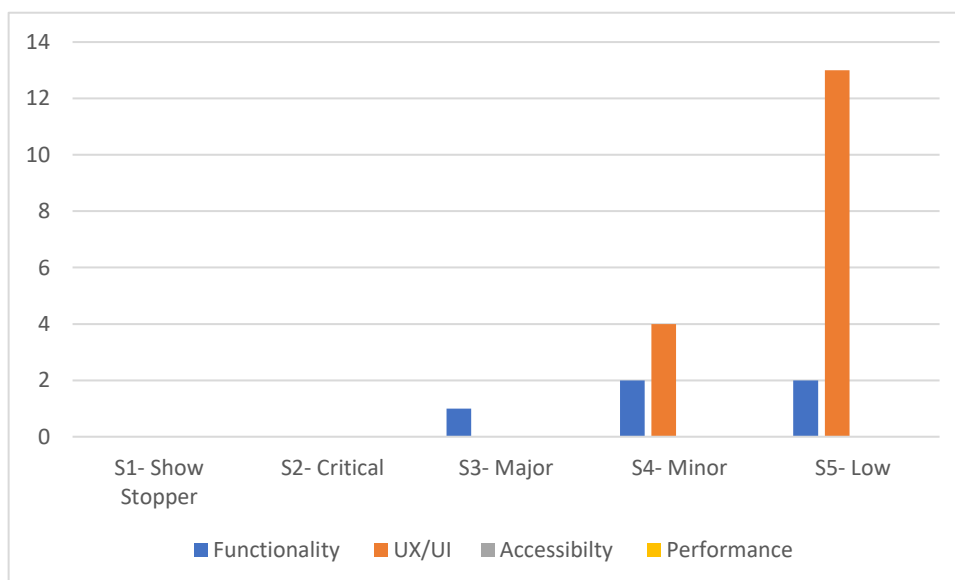

S1- Show Stopper	S2- Critical	S3- Major	S4- Minor	S5- Low	Total
0	0	1	6	15	22

Defect Distribution - Module Wise

This column chart represents the types and severities of bugs found on the “Stradivarius” shopping website. We can infer that most of the bugs were related to UX/UI.

	Functionality	UX/UI	Accessibility	Performance	Total
S1- Show Stopper	0	0	0	0	0
S2- Critical	0	0	0	0	0
S3- Major	1	0	0	0	1
S4- Minor	2	4	0	0	6
S5- Low	2	13	0	0	15
Total	5	17	0	0	22

Recommendations

1. The search button should always be visible.
2. Make sure that all the items on the site have a picture.
3. In order to see all the images of the same product, all images must be visible and arranged in the same row and if there are too much in a row then row below.
4. Make sure that the font size and color are large, legible, and user-friendly.
5. Every link on the website should redirect to the correct page, and there should not be any instances of blank pages.
6. The validation checks for the date of birth, phone number, and email fields must be precise.

Conclusion-Go

Following the various tests carried on the “Stradivarius” website, several bugs were found.

Most of them have a severity level of low, and defined as UX/UI bugs.

Although there are quite a few bugs, the website performs its main functions, which are displaying information and products -providing detailed product listings, high-quality images, and easy navigation through various categories such as clothing, shoes, and accessories.

As a result, I recommend to release this website.

1. Open URL: <https://www.stradivarius.com/il/>.
2. Scroll down until you see the title "מומלצים בשבילך".

Actual result:

The picture on the left side is cut off, and there are no navigation arrows, so I think those are all the products in this section.

Expected result:

I should see navigation arrows to indicate that I can view more products in this section.

Attachment S:

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying a product page for a pillow. The page is primarily in Hebrew. A red rectangular box highlights a section titled 'PACKAGING' which contains English text: 'Through our Green To Pack programme, we redesign our packaging to facilitate its reuse and subsequent recycling. More information about the materials used and how to manage them. More information about their characteristics and environmental qualities.' A red arrow points from a text box below the box to the highlighted text. The text box contains the message: 'As you can see, only this text is in English, while the other text is in Hebrew.'

Severity: S5- Low
